Title

2.1

Bangor University High Power, High Repetition Rate Femtosecond Laser

Description of the goods or services required

2.2

Bangor University is planning to purchase a high power, high repetition rate, femtosecond laser system for enhancing its laser processing and advanced manufacturing capabilities. The system must be highly reliable, having been proven for 24/7 applications, and demonstrated for rapid laser cutting and welding of glass samples. In addition, demonstrations in composite material processing and synthesis of graphene are highly desirable. The instrument must have a 12 month warranty as minimum and we may award a servicing contract up to 3 years.
